

General Marshall Held Partly Responsible For Pearl Harbor Disaster

Truman Says Criticism Of Staff Chief Unjustified

Washington, Aug. 29 (AP)—Gen. George C. Marshall, Army chief of Staff, was held partly responsible for the Pearl Harbor disaster by an Army Board of Inquiry but President Truman, in releasing the report today said the criticism was "entirely unjustified."

The President, who called a special news conference to release the long awaited Army and Navy reports on the events leading up to Dec. 7, 1941, said he sided with Secretary of War Stimson in rejecting the findings as to Marshall.

The bulky three volume reports were sharply critical of Rear Admiral Husband E. Kimmel, Admiral Harold R. Stark and Maj. Gen. Walter C. Short.

Hint Court Martial
Mr. Truman told reporters that if court martial proceedings were indicated prompt and fair trials would be held.

General Marshall, the Army report said, "failed in his relations with the Hawaiian department in the following particulars:

"(A) To keep the commanding general of the Hawaiian department fully advised of the growing tenseness of the Japanese situation which indicated an increasing necessity for better preparation for war, of which information he had an abundance and Short had little.

"(B) To send additional instructions to the commanding general of the Hawaiian department on November 28, 1941, when evidently he failed to realize the import of General Short's reply of November 27th, which indicated clearly that General Short had misunderstood and misconstrued the message of November 17 and had not adequately alerted his command for war.

Lacked Information
"(C) To get to General Short on the evening of December 6th and the early morning of December 7th, the critical information indicating an almost immediate break with Japan, though there was ample time to have accomplished this.

"(D) To investigate and determine the state of readiness of the Hawaiian command between November 27 and December 7, 1941, despite the impending threat of war."

Mr. Truman issued the following statement:

"I have here reports on the Pearl Harbor disaster. One is from the Army and one is from the Navy. The Navy report gives a 'finding of facts' by Navy court of inquiry. Attached to this finding of facts are endorsements by the Judge Advocate General of the Navy, Rear Admiral T. L. Gatch; Admiral E. J. King, chief of Naval operations, and the Secretary of the Navy. You will find a summation of the findings in the final endorsement by the Secretary of the Navy at the end of the document.

Criticize Marshall
"From the Army we have the report of the Army Pearl Harbor board, and bound separately, a statement by the Secretary of War.

"Certain criticisms of the Chief of Staff, General Marshall appear in the report of the Army Pearl Harbor board. You will notice in the secretary's statement, beginning on Page 19, that he takes sharp issue with the criticism of General Marshall stating that the criticism is 'entirely unjustified.'

"The conclusion of the Secretary of War is that General Marshall acted throughout this matter with his usual 'great skill, energy and efficiency.' I associate myself wholeheartedly with this expression by the Secretary of War.

"Indeed I have the fullest confidence in the skill, energy and efficiency of all our war leaders, both Army and Navy."

Error In Judgment
Short and Kimmel were the Army and Navy commanders at Pearl Harbor when the Japanese struck their surprise blow there. Admiral Stark was chief of naval operations at the time.

In his report Secretary Stimson said that while Admiral Kimmel and General Short "were on very friendly terms and in frequent communication, the exchange of information as well as consultation in other respects at Hawaii between the Army and Navy was inadequate."

Stimson declared that the underlying cause of the error of judgment which permitted the sneak attack "was General Short's confidence that Japan would not then attack Pearl Harbor."

JURY CONVICTS WALTER JACOBS OF $850 THEFT

A jury deliberated an hour Tuesday afternoon before returning a verdict of guilty against Walter V. Jacobs, Kingsdale painter, who was charged with stealing about $850 from a sleeping truck driver on June 22. Jacobs will be sentenced Saturday.

Trial of the case required more than a day and ended jury trials for the August session.

In his final summary to the jury, District Attorney J. Francis Yake said that he felt Jacobs had "overdone" his testimony on the point of his drinking on the day of the theft. Jacobs had testified he had consumed about 23 beers and a pint of whiskey in a period of six or seven hours on June 22.

Find Part Of Loot
Mr. Yake pointed out that although the defendant's recollection was clear about all of his actions up to the time Clarence Valentine, Emmitsburg truceur who had given Jacobs his second "lift" for the day, stopped along the highway to sleep and he could recall what happened later, Jacobs had no knowledge how the roll of bills containing more than $700 had come to be in his trouser pocket in Hanover that evening.

The defense attorney, John P. Butt, Esq., told the jury that Valentine had been "inviting trouble" by going to sleep along the roadway with $800 in his pocketbook. He declared there was not one bit of evidence to prove that Jacobs took the money and added that many other persons would have had an opportunity to rob Valentine as he slept along the roadway for several hours, awaking after dark.

Jacobs had asserted that he knew the roll of bills did not belong to him and that he intended to attempt to discover the owner but was arrested at Norristown before he had an opportunity to do so. The defendant testified he had not used any of the money in the "roll of bills" but had used his own cash to buy drinks, clothing and pay taxi fare.

Aboard the Heavy Cruiser USS Tuscaloosa, in the Western Pacific, (By Mail)—Ross H. Sachs, seaman second class, son of Luther Sachs, 22 Locust street, Gettysburg, Pa., is serving aboard this veteran cruiser which switched from her role as a famous good will ship to become one of the Navy's toughest scrappers, fighting both Nazis and Japs in every war theater from the Arctic to Okinawa.

Dispatched to the Pacific after V-E day, the Tuscaloosa and her crew members, who are among the most decorated in the Navy, aided in the bombardment of Iwo Jima, where they remained until the island was secured. Sgt. William Oyler, son of Mrs. Genevieve Oyler, Biglerville R. 1, was enroute to the Pacific after serving 30 months in the European theater of war, when news of the Japanese surrender was received at sea. Later the ship, three days out of Bermuda, reversed its course and a short time later docked at New York. Sergeant Oyler is now on a 30-day furlough.

The county soldier has been in service three years and four months. He served in England, North Africa, Sicily and Italy and wears four battle stars.

WARTIME R. C. WORKERS WILL BE DECORATED

The Adams county chapter of the Red Cross expects to arrange a public ceremony at which deserving volunteer and paid workers will be presented with certificates of merit, insignia and service ribbon bars in recognition of their service with the Red Cross during World War II.

That announcement was made today with the receipt of a letter from national Red Cross headquarters disclosing that provision has been made for special recognition of loyal wartime service by volunteer and paid Red Cross workers.

Certificates will be presented for faithful and meritorious service within the period beginning January 1, 1940, and ending with the close of the war to:

1. Volunteer workers who have served for 200 hours or longer.

2. Paid workers who have served for 12 months or longer.

3. Other volunteer or paid workers who, in the judgment of the chapter executive committee, have given effective service of special significance, in less than 200 hours in the case of volunteer workers, or less than 12 months in the case of paid workers.

Many Qualified Here
The certificates will bear the signature of Mrs. E. S. Lewars, the county chapter chairman; Basil O'Connor, national Red Cross chairman, and President Truman.

The "Red Cross World War II Volunteer Service Ribbon Bar" will indicate with silver and gold stars on a scarlet background the hours of volunteer service rendered by the recipient from January 1, 1940. The plain red ribbon bar represents 12 months of volunteer service with added silver stripes representing 500 hours each up to 4,500 hours when a broad gold bar will be used to indicate the first 5,000 hours and additional narrow gold stripes indicate 1,000 hours each.

The chapter office here said that many county Red Cross workers will qualify for some of the awards with some of the workers who served since September, 1939, qualifying for some of the highest awards offered.

STOLEN AUTO IS WRECKED

The sedan of Lt. Harvey Dickert, East Stevens street, was stolen from its parking place on North Stratton street beside the Dickert residence about midnight Tuesday and was wrecked a short time later along the orchard of John K. Lott, three miles from town on the old Hunt-erstown road.

The car, apparently traveling at a high speed, ran off the outside of a curve, hit a bank and rolled over crossing the road and coming to rest on its left side. Damage was estimated by police at more than $300. The machine was towed to Gettysburg this morning.

Mr. Lott told police he was aroused a few minutes after midnight by a man who asked him to help right his machine which the stranger said had upset. Mr. Lott said it was useless for the two of them to try to lift the car and offered to call a garage. The stranger said "no" and left.

Mr. Lott's suspicions were aroused and he attempted to call the police but could not reach the operator. He reported the incident to police this morning.

24 Nazi Arch Criminals Go On Mass Trial Next October

London, Aug. 29 (AP)—The four major Western Allies today named 24 Nazi leaders and Prussian military chiefs—among them Herman Goering, Rudolf Hess, Wilhelm Keitel and Karl Doenitz—as defendants in the first mass trial of Germany's arch criminals early in October.

The list furnished the first evidence that Hess, deputy fuhrer for all Nazi party affairs until 1941, when he made his sensational flight to England, was considered mentally able to stand trial with his one time associates. Hess once was successor-designate to Hitler.

The list also included the name of Martin Bormann, Hitler's secretary. There had been no evidence previously of Bormann's whereabouts despite unconfirmed reports that he and Hitler had perished together. Bormann was Hess' successor as deputy party leader.

List of Criminals

The full list follows:
HERMAN WILHELM GOERING, who was designated successor to Hitler in September, 1939, and directed the Nazi air offensive.

RUDOLPH HESS.

JOACHIM VON RIBBENTROP, former champagne salesman who directed Nazi intrigue in half a dozen European capitals as Germany's foreign minister.

ROBERT LEY, chief of the Nazi party organization, commissioner for national housing, and chief of the German labor front.

ALFRED ROSENBERG, Reich leader for ideology and foreign policy and propagandist who took leading role in anti-semitism in Germany.

HAANS FRANK, who was governor general of Poland and an SS general.

ERNST JALTENBRUNNER, Hitler's right hand man, chief of the Reich security department and chief of criminal police.

Name Anti-Semite
WILHELM FRICK, minister of interior and ruler of Bohemia and Moravia. He served in Hitler's secret cabinet council.

JULIUS STREICHER, gauleiter of Franconia, editor of Der Sturmer, notorious anti-semitic and a schoolmaster by profession.

FELD MARCHAL WILHELM KEITEL, chief of the Wehrmacht.

DR. WALTER FUNK, president of the Reichsbank.

HJALMAR SCHACHT, minister of economics, commissioner of the four year plan and former president of the Reichsbank.

ADM. KARL DOENITZ, commander in chief of the Navy, director of U-boat warfare, and the man who took over rule of Germany after Hitler was reported dead.

Wainwright At Chungking

Wainwright Wants To Meet Ruthless, Arrogant Jap To Whom He Surrendered

By DONALD HUTH

Chungking, Aug. 29 (AP)—Lt. Gen. Jonathan M. Wainwright, in excellent spirits after his trip here from Manchuria, looked forward eagerly today to seeing at the final surrender ceremonies in Tokyo some of the Japanese commanders who accepted with pompous arrogance the capitulation of his heroic American band at Corregidor.

In particular he hoped to see at the scene of Japan's complete humiliation the one-time commander-in-chief of Japanese forces in the Philippines—Gen. Masaharu Homma, Homma was a ruthless victor and an arrogant one.

"Gen. Wainwright told me that he hoped that Japanese Gen. Homma, to whom he surrendered at Corregidor, is present when the Japanese sign the surrender," said Col. James H. S. Rasmussen of Phoenix, Va., pilot of the plane which brought Wainwright to Chungking from Mukden.

To Go To Tokyo

The 62-year-old hero of the American stand on Bataan and Corregidor has accepted Gen. MacArthur's invitation to go to Tokyo for the surrender ceremonies, a Manila dispatch said. He planned to leave Chungking by plane Thursday, accompanied by Brig. Gen. Lewis C. Beebe, Col. John Pugh, Maj. Thos. Dooley and T/Sgt. H. Carroll, all former prisoners of the Japanese.

"All this group were with me on the tragic day when I had to surrender, and I'm especially anxious that they be present when we accept the Japanese surrender," Wainwright's message to MacArthur said.

One officer now in Chungking told how Wainwright, who assumed command of American forces in the Philippines in 1942 when MacArthur was ordered to leave to become supreme commander in the south-west Pacific, reacted to the second order from the Japanese to surrender on Bataan. The officer, who asked that his name be withheld, quoted Wainwright as saying: "I've been to general staff school and the war college, but they never taught me what to do if I was called upon to surrender. I guess we shall have to continue fighting."

Okinawa, Aug. 29 (AP)—Fleet Admiral Nimitz reached Tokyo bay by seaplane this afternoon as General MacArthur waited at Okinawa for Thursday's mass occupation of vanquished Japan by 18,150 Allied troops from air and sea.

Naval officials already have inspected the Yokosuka naval base at close range and Tokyo radio said the Yokohama Marine transport board building has been chosen as general headquarters for the occupation forces.

First American ship to dock at Yokosuka, Task Force Commander Rear Adm. Oscar C. Badger said, will be the cruiser San Diego. He gave this tentative schedule of events:

Marines Land Tonight
British troops (250 Royal Marines, 200 Royal Navy personnel) go ashore on two Tokyo bay islands guarding Yokosuka at 6:15 a. m. Japan time (5:15 p. m. Wednesday, Eastern War Time) and Americans occupy a third islet.

Americans (9,000 Marines and 1,200 sailors) land at and near Yokosuka naval base about 10 a. m. Japan time (9 p. m. Wednesday, Eastern War Time).

General MacArthur and his 7,500 airborne troops are expected at Atsugi airfield 20 miles southwest of Tokyo almost simultaneously.

American Marine and bluejacket units may also board the wrecked Japanese battleship Nagato, at Yokosuka, Admiral Badger said — to make sure her guns won't fire.

To Supervise Base

Weather permitting, the cruiser San Diego will dock at Yokosuka about 10:30 a. m. (9:30 p. m. Wednesday, Eastern War Time).

Rear Adm. Robert B. Carney, Admiral Halsey's chief of staff, will accept occupation papers at Yokosuka on behalf of his commander; and Admiral Badger will supervise administration of the new American base.

Admiral Nimitz will shift his five starred flag from the battleship South Dakota to the new USS Missouri early Sunday morning. Allied dignitaries will witness Japan's formal surrender there later Sunday.

A 6-inch Halsey, whose 16-inch battleship guns will cover the simultaneous seaborne landing at Yokosuka naval base, steamed into Tokyo bay aboard the proud battleship Missouri on which the surrender will be signed Sunday with Lt. Gen. Jonathan M. Wainwright, hero of Corregidor, among the witnesses.

The Missouri was followed by a line of other warships including the battleships South Dakota, veteran of South Pacific battles and flagship of Admiral Nimitz and the British Duke of York, conqueror in the Atlantic of the German Scharnhorst and now flagship of Adm. Sir Bruce Fraser.

Ships Jam Bay

Other major units of the combined fleets lay across Miura peninsula in Sagami bay or stood in the Pacific ocean outside the bay, ready for instant action and to send their swarms of carrier planes to cover the joint landings.

Vice Adm. Frank Jack Fletcher's north Pacific naval force of escort carriers, cruisers and destroyers prepared to sail for Japan to join the occupation fleet. It will arrive after the landing of the 10,000 American and British marines and bluejackets at Yakusuka and probably will be assigned to patrol northern Japanese waters.

Japanese medical officers promised that when occupation forces land, 6,125 prisoners of war and 94 civilian internees would be released in the Tokyo area.

Among them, a fleet report said, may be Maj. Gregory (Pappy) Boyington, holder of the congressional medal of honor. The air hero of China and the south Pacific was reported alive, a step toward the fulfillment of his pledge to his flying mates before he was shot down over Rabaul to "see you in a San Diego bar six months after the war is over."

Announcements of new Japanese surrenders trickled in from Pacific islands.

Old Glory flew over Mili atoll in the Marshalls after the surrender of the surviving 2,400 Nipponee of an original garrison of 4,500. Two hundred marines occupied the atoll which has long been a bomb practice target for carrier and marine pilots.

Weather Forecast

DANGER LOOMS IN OCCUPATION OF JAP ISLAND

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

The world is fortunate in that the American forces which are occupying Japan are seasoned veterans who, from Supreme Commander MacArthur down to the ranks, have learned much of Japanese mentality by hard experience.

Our success in reforming the Japs and making good global citizens of them depends heavily on the initial contact between these still medieval people and the first foreign troops ever to set foot on the Mikado's domains as conquerors. It's a great adventure into the unknown, for while Japanese officers were "polite as pie" to the American airborne spearhead of occupation yesterday yet nobody—not even the harassed Tokyo government—knows how the people of Nippon as a whole will respond to the policing of their homeland.

Realize Impotence

Thus far it appears that the Japanese military and the government realize full well their country is beaten into impotence. That's the very excellent state in which we want it for a starter—but while this is an essential step in the reformation of Japan, the real change will come through education and not through manhandling. That's why the relationship established in the early days of the occupation is so vital.

Certainly the qualifications of our high command leave nothing to be desired. MacArthur has had a long and varied experience in the Orient. Lt. General Robert Eichelberger, commander of the U. S. Eighth Army which will occupy the Tokyo area, is a Far Eastern specialist and has had close contact with the Japanese for nearly a generation. We may be sure that the lesser officers have been selected with extreme care.

Backed By Power

As regards the danger of sporadic attacks on our men by misguided Japanese elements, MacArthur is in position to deal with anything and everything through the tremendous Allied striking-power at his disposal. The naval fleet which is lying off Tokyo is the greatest ever assembled, and with a wave of the hand he could unleash far more air strength against Japan than has yet been seen in action anywhere.

Still, while all these precautions have been taken, and the Japanese government is showing every evidence of anxiety to cooperate wholly, the danger of trouble does exist. This in itself is a good answer to critics who are demanding why the Allies haven't already started cracking down on the Japanese militarists, some of whom appear to be in the government.

ABOLITION OF MODIFICATION OF DRAFT SEEN

Washington, Aug. 29 (AP)—Key officials said today a revised point system for speeding army discharges will be started soon, possibly within days. All that's needed is a green light from General MacArthur.

Meanwhile, demands mounted on Capitol hill for abolition or modification of the draft. These demands ignored pleas by President Truman and the War Department that it be continued on a two-year basis for men 18 through 25.

One lawmaker, Representative Sikes (D-Fla.), predicted Congress would scrap Selective Service before Christmas.

Many others spoke out against further draft calls. Particularly they oppose inducting youths of 18 and 19. They insist a program of special inducements for volunteers would provide enough men.

Only a scattered few voiced support of the draft; those few termed its retention a "necessary evil."

The possibility of almost immediate adoption of the new point system was cited by both Chairman May (D-Ky.) of the House Military Committee and Major Gen. Stephen G. Henry, assistant Army chief of staff for personnel.

Henry, who announced the revised formula yesterday at a committee hearing, said:

"It all depends on General MacArthur, but we hope that as soon as the surrender is signed in the next two or three days that he can notify us immediately he won't need any more combat men and we can make the change."

May told newsmen "we think the matter can be cleared up in a couple of weeks at the most." Meanwhile, he said his committee would meet again Friday, to hear Navy testimony regarding the draft act.

Henry told the committee the present point system was based on MacArthur's need for thousands of combat troops until he was certain he would not encounter trouble occupying Japan.

The revised setup, which applies only to enlisted men, calls for:

1. Reimbursement of points, which are now figured as of May 12. This will boost all scores several figures.
2. A cut from 85 to 80 in the number of points needed for a discharge.
3. Shipment overseas only of men with less than 60 points. The present figure is 75.

4. Virtual abandonment of the policy of keeping men in service because of special skills regardless of their points. At present thousands are in this class. This total will be reduced to approximately 500.

5. A reduction in the age limit at which men may retire. At present it is 38. Henry declined to reveal the new figure.

6. A similar program of speedier discharges for WACs, with a reduction from 44 to 41 in the number of points needed for discharge.

The Army also disclosed that a point system for discharge of officers has been set up but not yet announced.

FASTER THAN SOUND

Twin Falls, Ida., Aug. 29 (AP)—Authorities at Twin Falls County hospital called for blood donors to aid Martin Jensen, 74, critically ill. The appeal was telephoned to police headquarters, the sheriff's office and fire department. Hospital authorities also called radio station KTFI and asked that an appeal be broadcast. The broadcast went out, but the appeal already had been answered—by Charles S. Crabtree, the station's program director.

USS Birmingham Is Damaged Again

Washington, Aug. 29 (AP)—The light cruiser Birmingham took her third major battle damage of the war when she was hit at Okinawa last May 4 by a Japanese suicide fighter bomber.

The navy, disclosing this today, said the crash took its heaviest toll in the sick bay and officers' quarters. Casualties totaled 45 killed, six missing and 83 wounded. Both the ship's medical officers were killed, together with 19 of the 24 hospital corpsmen.

The Birmingham had suffered serious damage earlier when she was torpedoed November 8, 1943, and again last October when the carrier Princeton blew up alongside her as she was seeking to lend aid.

Diving into the deck crater left by the plane and its bomb, two marines, Sgt. Robert Smith, Duncansville, Pa., and Corp. Charles Galey, Memphis, Tenn., passed seven wounded men to waiting hands within minutes following the hit.

The Birmingham was repaired at Pearl Harbor in time to return to action before the Japanese surrendered.

MARTIN WILL HELP JOBLESS

(By The Associated Press)

Pennsylvania has jumped into the problem of reconvertng its huge wartime machinery quickly and efficiently.

Although the number of workers laid off because of termination of war contracts has already reached into the tens of thousands, there has been little protest. There has instead been the quiet feeling of watching and waiting.

United States Employment Service offices, jammed during the first days of the switch from military to civilian production, are no longer crowded. The laid off men and women are searching for—and in many cases finding—new jobs.

There have been a series of strikes in the Philadelphia area, but these have not been directly the result of contract cancellations.

One of the sore spots in the re-conversion picture has been the closing of the Bendix Aviation corporation's plant in Philadelphia.

The Detroit office of the corporation ordered the Philadelphia plant closed shortly after the announcement of Japan's surrender and there followed a series of protests by the 5,200 workers made idle.

Yesterday Governor Martin said he was going to join Philadelphia's Mayor Bernard Samuel and others in an effort to have the plant reopened.

"Pennsylvania is going to do what it can to help," the governor said. "We are going to go the limit."

Newly-elected vice presidents are B. C. Jones, Pittsburgh; Miss Julia Brill, State College, and E. J. Flynn, Philadelphia.

ALL NAZIS OR FORMER NAZIS TO LOSE JOBS

By GEORGE TUCKER

Frankfurt-on-the-Main, Aug. 29 (AP)—A ruthless application of the Potsdam decisions to the American zone in occupied Germany was indicated today in top-level orders directing U. S. officials to carry out a strict purge of every member or former member of the Nazi party from any position of authority and from any job on any level of German civil service.

The orders came from Gen. Eisenhower and his chief deputy on the Allied Control Council for Germany, Lt. Gen. Lucius D. Clay.

As a three-day conference of army commanders and group leaders was convened, Clay announced a ban on expeditious use of former Nazis on any temporary basis.

"It might be more effective on occasion if we were permitted to continue certain Nazis in office (because of their experience) but that is impossible because of the principles laid down at Potsdam," Clay said.

To this, Col. Hayden Smith, a former law partner of Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson and now deputy chief of staff for the G-5 (military government) division, added:

"We must realize that no German can be accepted except with the greatest caution. Germans have caused international trouble before the Nazis, and they may do so again, even after Nazism has been wiped out. We must guard against a renewal of militant Germanism or Nazism in another garb."

"We must not permit the Germans to escape the realization that their German state is responsible for the suffering and chaos it has made inevitable. In replacing each candidate removed, attention must not only be paid to whether he was an officeholder before 1933 or a member of the Nazi party pre- or post-1937. The man should be one who has fought for democratic rights and institutions, for the rights and sanctity of the individual."

West Virginia Sets Coal Output Mark

Washington, Aug. 29 (AP)—West Virginia produced an estimated 163,845,000 tons of bituminous coal in 1944 to lead the nation for the 14th consecutive year and set a new state record.

This was reported today by the Bureau of Mines on the basis of preliminary figures on bituminous coal and lignite production in 1944 and final statistics for 1943.

A preprint chapter of the bureau's minerals yearbook says that in 1944, the third full year of America's participation in the war, nearly every soft coal state increased its output and contributed to a new national record estimated at 620,000,000 tons.

The book notes that the record was set despite increased loss of manpower, shortages of supplies and machinery, the advancing age of remaining miners and several work stoppages.

AND THINK OF THE NOISE

Salt Lake City, Aug. 29 (AP)—A department store received an order for "only a half pound" of "this here atomic stuff" to use for killing the bugs on a farmer's spud crop. They referred the order to the Salt Lake Tribune where the statistics department estimated that U-235 in concentrations up to 10 per cent may be available some day at about $12,000 for a half pound.

To this, Col. Hayden Smith, a former law partner of Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson and now deputy chief of staff for the G-5 (military government) division, added:

"We must realize that no German can be accepted except with the greatest caution. Germans have caused international trouble before the Nazis, and they may do so again, even after Nazism has been wiped out. We must guard against a renewal of militant Germanism or Nazism in another garb."

RESCHEDULE OF POINT SYSTEM FOR ARMY, NAVY

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, Aug. 29 (AP)—The picture on the discharge of people from the armed services is changing. It will change more. Here's the score, up to date.

Will a veteran of the European war—when sent to the Pacific—be discharged if he become eligible for discharge?

Yes, the war department says. He will be returned to the United States as fast as transportation permits. Further:

Once in the United States he will be released unless he has skill in any one of these three critical categories:

Mechanics who fit artificial limbs, radio transmitter attendants and electro cardiac specialists.

Men in those categories may be kept in service an additional six months beyond the time they become eligible for discharge.

Meanwhile Army and Navy want the draft of men, 18 through 25, continued as replacements for discharged veterans.

To be discharged from the Navy these are the points necessary: An enlisted man, 44; male officers, 49; enlisted women, 29; women officers, 35.

This is how the Navy points are acquired:

1/2 for each year of age to the nearest birthday.

1/2 for each full month of active service since Sept. 1, 1939. Overseas services brings no extra credit, yet. It will in about two months, the Navy says.

10 points total for one or more dependants. It remains at 10 points whether the number of dependants is one or more.

This is how the Army credit points are acquired:

1 for each month of service since Sept. 16, 1940.

1 for each month of overseas service.

12 for each dependent child, up to a total of 3. Wives don't count as dependants.

5 For Campaigns

5 points for each campaign served. Example: The New Guinea and Philippines campaigns would count as two, or a total of ten points.

5 points for various awards, ranging from the Purple Heart for wounds to medals for valor.

The Army's minimum of 85 points—for discharge—will be lowered to 80 when MacArthur needs no more combat troops.

Since the Japanese have surrendered and Japan is being occupied, this should be soon.

The Army based its credit system on points earned up to May 12. But suppose on Sept. 12 it lowered its 85 points-for-discharge to 80.

Would it also re-figure its credit system to give its men credit for

Soldier Expects To Beat The Stork

Pittsburgh, Aug. 29 (AP)—Pvt. John T. Coax, 22, who sweated out an Atlantic redeployment voyage wondering whether or not he had become a father, learned today he still had a chance to beat the stork.

When Pvt. Coax landed in Boston yesterday someone confided his anxieties to a reporter who telephoned Mrs. Coax, relayed the news to her husband while he was still aboard ship.

The 21-year-old prospective mother told Coax in another later call, "The doctor said the baby was due a week ago. But since I've waited this long, I might as well wait until you get home."

The four months of service between May 12-Sept. 12?

Apparently, yes. A spokesman talks of "recomputing" credits when MacArthur gives the word.

Before Commodore Perry visited Japan, Yokohama was a fishing village of 100 families.

DANGER LOOMS IN OCCUPATION OF JAP ISLAND

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

The world is fortunate in that the American forces which are occupying Japan are seasoned veterans who, from Supreme Commander MacArthur down to the ranks, have learned much of Japanese mentality by hard experience.

Our success in reforming the Japs and making good global citizens of them depends heavily on the initial contact between these still medieval people and the first foreign troops ever to set foot on the Mikado's domains as conquerors. It's a great adventure into the unknown, for while Japanese officers were "polite as pie" to the American airborne spearhead of occupation yesterday yet nobody—not even the harassed Tokyo government—knows how the people of Nippon as a whole will respond to the policing of their homeland.

Realize Impotence

Thus far it appears that the Japanese military and the government realize full well their country is beaten into impotence. That's the very excellent state in which we want it for a starter—but while this is an essential step in the reformation of Japan, the real change will come through education and not through manhandling. That's why the relationship established in the early days of the occupation is so vital.

Certainly the qualifications of our high command leave nothing to be desired. MacArthur has had a long and varied experience in the Orient. Lt. General Robert Eichelberger, commander of the U. S. Eighth Army which will occupy the Tokyo area, is a Far Eastern specialist and has had close contact with the Japanese for nearly a generation. We may be sure that the lesser officers have been selected with extreme care.

Backed By Power

As regards the danger of sporadic attacks on our men by misguided Japanese elements, MacArthur is in position to deal with anything and everything through the tremendous Allied striking-power at his disposal. The naval fleet which is lying off Tokyo is the greatest ever assembled, and with a wave of the hand he could unleash far more air strength against Japan than has yet been seen in action anywhere.

Still, while all these precautions have been taken, and the Japanese government is showing every evidence of anxiety to cooperate wholly, the danger of trouble does exist. This in itself is a good answer to critics who are demanding why the Allies haven't already started cracking down on the Japanese militarists, some of whom appear to be in the government.

Truman Says

being responsible "for some of the shortcomings of the officers of the general staff."

"Failed To Alert"

The Pearl Harbor board attributed the extent of the Pearl Harbor disaster primarily to what it called failure of the commanding general of the Hawaiian department "adequately to alert his command for war," and to failure of the War Department to direct him to take an adequate alert and to keep him advised on developments of the United States-Japanese peace talks then under way.

Stimson said his conclusions as to the responsibilities and errors of General Short were in general accord with those of both the Roberts commission and the Army Pearl Harbor board. The Roberts commission, a five man board, headed by then Supreme Court Justice Owen J. Roberts, made an on-the-spot investigation early in the war.

On the Navy side, Secretary Forrestal directed that Kimmel and Stark, both retired, shall not hold positions in the Navy which require "the exercise of superior judgment."

No "Superior Judgment"

He added that appropriate congressional committees will be "fully acquainted with the Navy's investigation into this matter, and public disclosure of the facts concerning the attack on Pearl Harbor obtained in these investigations, will be made to the extent they can be taken without injury to current military operations or the national security."

He said that on the basis of the record and the investigations, he had reached the conclusion that Kimmel and Stark "particularly from the period of 27 November to December 7, 1941, failed to demonstrate the superior judgment necessary for exercising command commensurate with their rank and their assigned duties."

Forrestal's report embraced an assertion by the commander in chief of the U. S. fleet concluding that:

Faults of Omission

"The derelictions on the part of Admiral Stark and Rear Admiral Kimmel were faults of omission rather than commission," and added: "Since trial by general court martial is not warranted by the evidence adduced, appropriate administrative action would appear to be the relegation of both of these officers in positions in which lack of superior judgment may not result in future errors."

Stimson not only disagreed with the Pearl Harbor board's criticism of Marshall but also with what he termed a suggestion in the board's report "which might be construed as a criticism" of former Secretary of State Cordell Hull.

"It is suggested that in his conduct in the negotiations with the Japanese envoys a different procedure might have prolonged the negotiations until such time as the army and navy were better prepared for hostile action," Stimson said.

Comment "Uncalled For"

"Not only do I strongly disagree with what amounts at best only to a conjecture, but I feel that the board's comment in this respect was uncalled for and not within the scope of their proper inquiry."

The President in comments aside from his formal statement said he wanted the public to have all the facts on Pearl Harbor which were embraced in the three documents.

He was asked whether there was any suggestion of a court martial. He said he had nothing to say on a court martial but if a court martial was necessary the gentlemen would be given prompt and fair trials.

He said there had been a great deal of conversation about Pearl Harbor and that the country was entitled to the facts. He added that as soon as the public and press know the facts the better off they will be.

There was no recommendation in either of the reports with reference to a court martial, the documents being primarily findings of fact.

Had "Warned" Short

Stimson said the primary and immediate responsibility for the protection of the island of Oahu and Pearl Harbor insofar as the army was concerned rested upon the commanding officer of the Hawaiian Department, General Short. He said that during 1941 and particularly from October until the latter part of November of that year "General Short was repeatedly advised of the critical events which were developing," and that he was "clearly warned" November 27 by appropriate authorities in Washington that "a weak in diplomatic relations between the United States and Japan might occur at any time, that an attack by Japan on the United States might occur and that hostilities were possible at any moment."

Short was informed that the defense of his command was to be regarded, Stimson said, "as paramount to all other considerations and that he was specifically directed to take such measures of reconnaissance as he deemed necessary."

From August 1939 to March 25, 1942 Admiral Stark was Chief of Naval Operations and Kimmel was Commander in Chief of the Pacific Fleet.

ABOLITION OF MODIFICATION OF DRAFT SEEN

Washington, Aug. 29 (AP)—Key officials said today a revised point system for speeding army discharges will be started soon, possibly within days. All that's needed is a green light from General MacArthur.

Meanwhile, demands mounted on Capitol hill for abolition or modification of the draft. These demands ignored pleas by President Truman and the War Department that it be continued on a two-year basis for men 18 through 25.

One lawmaker, Representative Sikes (D-Fla.), predicted Congress would scrap Selective Service before Christmas.

Many others spoke out against further draft calls. Particularly they oppose inducting youths of 18 and 19. They insist a program of special inducements for volunteers would provide enough men.

"Necessary Evil"
Only a scattered few voiced support of the draft; those few termed its retention a "necessary evil."

The possibility of almost immediate adoption of the new point system was cited by both Chairman May (D-Ky.) of the House Military Committee and Major Gen. Stephen G. Henry, assistant army chief of staff for personnel.

Henry, who announced the revised formula yesterday at a committee hearing, said:

"It all depends on General MacArthur. But we hope that as soon as the surrender is signed in the next two or three days that he can notify us immediately he won't need any more combat men and we can make the change."

May told newsmen "we think the matter can be cleared up in a couple of weeks at the most." Meanwhile, he said his committee would meet again Friday, to hear Navy testimony regarding the draft act.

Henry told the committee the present point system was based on MacArthur's need for thousands of combat troops until he was certain he would not encounter trouble occupying Japan.

The revised setup, which applies only to enlisted men, calls for:

1. Recompensation of points, which are now figured as of May 12. This will boost all scores several figures.

2. A cut from 85 to 80 in the number of points needed for a discharge.

3. Shipment overseas only of men with less than 60 points. The present figure is 75.

4. Virtual abandonment of the policy of keeping men in service because of special skills regardless of their points. At present thousands are in this class. This total will be reduced to approximately 500.

5. A reduction in the age limit at which men may retire. At present it is 38. Henry declined to reveal the new figure.

6. A similar program of speedier discharges for WACs, with a reduction from 44 to 41 in the number of points needed for discharge.

The Army also disclosed that a point system for discharge of officers has been set up but not yet announced.

USS Birmingham Is Damaged Again

Washington, Aug. 29 (AP)—The light cruiser Birmingham took her third major battle damage of the war when she was hit at Okinawa last May 4 by a Japanese suicide fighter bomber.

The navy, disclosing this today, said the crash took its heaviest toll in the sick bay and officers' quarters. Casualties totaled 45 killed, six missing and 83 wounded. Both the ship's medical officers were killed, together with 19 of the 24 hospital corpsmen.

The Birmingham had suffered serious damage earlier when she was torpedoed November 8, 1943, and again last October when the carrier Princeton blew up alongside her as she was seeking to land aid.

Diving into the deck crater left by the plane and its bomb, two marines, Sgt. Robert Smith, Duncansville, Pa., and Corp. Charles Galey, Memphis, Tenn., passed seven wounded men to waiting hands within minutes following the hit.

The Birmingham was repaired at Pearl Harbor in time to return to action before the Japanese surrendered.

MARTIN WILL HELP JOBLESS

(By The Associated Press)
Pennsylvania has jumped into the problem of reconvertng its huge wartime machinery quickly and efficiently.

Although the number of workers laid off because of termination of war contracts has already reached into the tens of thousands, there has been little protest. There has instead been the quiet feeling of watching and waiting.

United States Employment Service offices, jammed during the first days of the switch from military to civilian production, are no longer crowded. The laid off men and women are searching for—and in many cases finding—new jobs.

There have been a series of strikes in the Philadelphia area, but these have not been directly the result of contract cancellations.

One of the sore spots in the re-conversion picture has been the closing of the Bendix Aviation corporation's plant in Philadelphia.

The Detroit office of the corporation ordered the Philadelphia plant closed shortly after the announcement of Japan's surrender and there followed a series of protests by the 5,200 workers made idle.

Yesterday Governor Martin said he was going to join Philadelphia's Mayor Bernard Samuel and others in an effort to have the plant reopened.

"Pennsylvania is going to do what it can to help," the governor said. "We are going to go the limit."

ALL NAZIS OR FORMER NAZIS TO LOSE JOBS

By GEORGE TUCKER

Frankfurt-on-the-Main, Aug. 29 (AP)—A ruthless application of the Potsdam decisions to the American zone in occupied Germany was indicated today in top-level orders directed U. S. officials to carry out a strict purge of every member or former member of the Nazi party from any position of authority and from any job on any level of German civil service.

The orders came from Gen. Eisenhower and his chief deputy on the Allied Control Council for Germany, Lt. Gen. Lucius D. Clay.

As a three-day conference of army commanders and group leaders was convened, Clay announced a ban on expeditious use of former Nazis on any temporary basis.

"It might be more effective on occasion if we were permitted to continue certain Nazis in office (because of their experience) but that is impossible because of the principles laid down at Potsdam," Clay said.

To this, Col. Hayden Smith, a former law partner of Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson and now deputy chief of staff for the G-5 (military government) division, added:

"We must realize that no German can be accepted except with the greatest caution. Germans have caused international trouble before the Nazis, and they may do so again, even after Nazism has been wiped out. We must guard against a renewal of militant Germanism or Nazism in another garb."

"We must not permit the Germans to escape the realization that their German state is responsible for the suffering and chaos it has made inevitable. In replacing each candidate removed, attention must

West Virginia Sets Coal Output Mark

Washington, Aug. 29 (AP)—West Virginia produced an estimated 163,845,000 tons of bituminous coal in 1944 to lead the nation for the 14th consecutive year and set a new state record.

This was reported today by the Bureau of Mines on the basis of preliminary figures on bituminous coal and lignite production in 1944 and final statistics for 1943.

A preprint chapter of the bureau's minerals yearbook says that in 1944, the third full year of America's participation in the war, nearly every soft coal state increased its output and contributed to a new national record estimated at 620,000,000 tons.

The book notes that the record was set despite increased loss of manpower, shortages of supplies and machinery, the advancing age of remaining miners and several work stoppages.

Salt Lake City, Aug. 29 (AP)—A department store received an order for "only a half pound" of "this here atomic stuff" to use for killing the bugs on a farmer's spud crop. They referred the order to the Salt Lake Tribune where the statistics department estimated that U-235 in concentrations up to 10 per cent may be available some day at about $12,000 for a half pound.

not only be paid to whether he was an officeholder before 1933 or a member of the Nazi party pre- or post-1937. The man should be one who has fought for democratic rights and institutions, for the rights and sanctity of the individual."

Men in those categories may be kept in service an additional six months beyond the time they become eligible for discharge.

Meanwhile Army and Navy want the draft of men, 18 through 25, continued as replacements for discharged veterans.

To be discharged from the Navy these are the points necessary: An enlisted man, 44; male officers, 49; enlisted women, 29; women officers, 35.

RESCHEDULE OF POINT SYSTEM FOR ARMY, NAVY

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, Aug. 29 (AP)—The picture on the discharge of people from the armed services is changing. It will change more. Here's the score, up to date.

Will a veteran of the European war—when sent to the Pacific—be discharged if he become eligible for discharge?

Yes, the war department says. He will be returned to the United States as fast as transportation permits. Further:

Once in the United States he will be released unless he has skill in any one of these three critical categories:

Mechanics who fit artificial limbs, radio transmitter attendants and electro cardiac specialists.

Men in those categories may be kept in service an additional six months beyond the time they become eligible for discharge.

Meanwhile Army and Navy want the draft of men, 18 through 25, continued as replacements for discharged veterans.

To be discharged from the Navy these are the points necessary: An enlisted man, 44; male officers, 49; enlisted women, 29; women officers, 35.

This is how the Navy points are acquired:

1/2 for each year of age to the nearest birthday.

1/2 for each full month of active service since Sept. 1, 1939. Overseas services brings no extra credit, yet. It will in about two months, the Navy says.

10 points total for one or more dependants. It remains at 10 points whether the number of dependants is one or more.

This is how the Army credit points are acquired:

1 for each month of service since Sept. 16, 1940.

1 for each month of overseas service.

12 for each dependent child, up to a total of 3. Wives don't count as dependants.

5 For Campaigns

5 points for each campaign served. Example: The New Guinea and Philippines campaigns would count as two, or a total of ten points.

5 points for various awards, ranging from the Purple Heart for wounds to medals for valor.

The Army's minimum of 85 points—for discharge—will be lowered to 80 when MacArthur needs no more combat troops.

Since the Japanese have surrendered and Japan is being occupied, this should be soon.

The Army based its credit system on points earned up to May 12. But suppose on Sept. 12 it lowered its 85 points-for-discharge to 80.

Would it also re-figure its credit system to give its men credit for

Soldier Expects To Beat The Stork

Pittsburgh, Aug. 29 (AP)—Pvt. John T. Coax, 22, who sweated out an Atlantic redeployment voyage wondering whether or not he had become a father, learned today he still had a chance to beat the stork.

When Pvt. Coax landed in Boston yesterday someone confided his anxieties to a reporter who telephoned Mrs. Coax, relayed the news to her husband while he was still aboard ship.

The 21-year-old prospective mother told Coax in another later call, "The doctor said the baby was due a week ago. But since I've waited this long, I might as well wait until you get home."

the four months of service between May 12-Sept. 12?

Apparently, yes. A spokesman talks of "recomputing" credits when MacArthur gives the word.

Just Folks

SECOND TEETH TIME
Comes that time of grinning boy
Grown-up people most enjoy;
Time they like to tell about
When the early teeth come out.
Leaving that wide open space
In a happy youngster's face.Here he is, just half-past six,
Suffering one of nature's tricks.
Teeth so pearly; once so stout,
Loosening now and coming out.
And his grandpa's offering
Painless dentistry with string.Here's that story-telling time
Of the fairy and the dime.
Told to little folks as truth:
"Neath the pillow place a tooth,
Which the fairies will purloin,
Leaving you a silver coin."Well, I wouldn't want to miss
Such a glorious time as this.
I would wade through thick and thin
Just to see that stretching grin.Knowing down through life's long while
Not more widely will he smile.

Today's Talk

LIVING UPON BANKED JOYS

No perfect joy is permanent—but its memory is. These memories are what we bank, as we do our savings, to enrich us in future days, when the light in our heart grows a little dark. It is then that we live upon these banked joys.

One reason why it is such a good idea to bank these joys is that by doing so we come to realize how many more joys than sorrows there are in our lives. And when the sorrows do arrive, as they do to us all, then we can go to our joys that have been banked, and draw on them, for both comfort and a clearer understanding of these sorrows.

When we bank our earnings and savings we get that much richer financially, and so in like manner, when we bank our joys, we grow that much happier. When alone, and lonely, or when far away from friends and loved ones, these joys loom so much greater before our eyes and consciousness. In our imagination we live anew the days and hours, or events, that created them.

When we are ill in a hospital, or are confined for long in bed at home, we have the opportunity to think things over, and to draw upon these former joys of ours, as so many do. I believe that this is one reason why the shut-ins are so cheerful, and exert such a power over those who attend them, and who give out so much spiritual strength to others, through various means. I have in mind one who is forever sending out clippings and inspiring letters to a selected group of people. These shut-ins have banked so much kindness and goodness that they grow richer the more that they give away!

The late William Lyon (Billy) Phelps, was a wonderful example of a man who banked his joys every day of his life. His autobiography showed it, and you couldn't talk with him five minutes without realizing what a rich man (in joys) he was. He had his sorrows, too, but he didn't bank them.

The little silk worker, "Pippa," in Browning's beautiful poem, who had but one day of vacation in the entire year, had grown so rich in joys that she had banked that when she went out into the free world of God and Nature, she gathered every possible joy, like a child fascinated at picking flowers in a field of them.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Artist of Earth and Sky."

OPA POLICY ON
PRICE CONTROL

Washington, Aug. 29 (AP)—Spokesmen for the nation's retail stores lashed out at OPA price control policy today. They called it "uneconomic, unsound and inequitable."

The OPA policy is this: To hold ceilings on new goods coming on the market to—or near—the 1942 price level.

"It is necessary for OPA to make immediate plans for major policy changes that will contribute to rapid reconversion and maximum re-employment," said a report handed OPA by that agency's retail pricing committee, an industry group.

But price administrator Chester Bowles was prepared to give a firm "no" in reply to the merchants' demand for change—according to officials close to Bowles.

This is what irks retailers: Under the OPA policy price increases are granted the manufacturers of refrigerators, washers and the like, if wage and materials costs have gone up.

This raises the cost to wholesalers and retailers, but those dealers are not permitted to pass them on to consumers in the form of higher retail prices.

They—wholesalers and retailers—have to absorb increases themselves.

Specifically, the committee made these four recommendations:

1. Adoption of a "broad and realistic" policy of removing price controls from non-essential goods.

2. Immediate dropping of the so-called "map"—maximum average price program.

(This requires that the average of all price lines handled by some retailers, mainly clothing and textile stores, go no higher than the average of 1943.)

3. Immediate elimination of all pricing methods which are based on average cost or earnings of an entire industry.

(Such a method, retailers argue, places an unfair profit squeeze on dealers whose selling costs are higher than average.)

4. Economic—or profit-making—pricing for manufacturers, wholesalers and retailers which "will assure maximum production and distribution."

Spaatz Will Not Seek Governorship

Washington, Aug. 29 (AP)—The man who supervised the atomic bombing in Japan has advised Rep. Hoch (D-Pa.) that he isn't interested in running for governor of Pennsylvania.

Gen. Carl Spaatz, commander of the United States army strategic air forces and a native of Boyertown, Pa., had been mentioned by some Keystone state Democratic leaders as a Democratic candidate for governor next year.

Hoch decided to broach the subject to the general in a letter. In an answer from the Pacific, written only a day or so before the first atomic bomb dropped on Hiroshima, Spaatz wrote:

"The governorship does not appeal to me."

FOUR BOYS ARE BURNED TO DEATH

Phillipsburg, Pa., Aug. 29 (AP)—Four teen-age boys were burned to death here last night when a car in which they were returning from football practice crashed into a truck loaded with gasoline.

Centre County Coroner Charles G. Shecker said three of the youths were burned beyond recognition when the flaming gasoline made a funeral pyre out of their automobile, and the fourth died in a hospital of burns over his entire body.

Shecker said the dead were:

Dale Brown, 16, of nearby Houtzdale, driver of the automobile; James Stuller, 16; Blair Henderson, 15; and Charles Mayhue, 15, all of Phillipsburg. Mayhue died in the State hospital shortly after the crash.

3 In Hospital
Two more boys and the truck driver were in the hospital suffering from burns and multiple injuries. They were:

Edward Shindeldecker, 16, burns and a fracture of the left leg; LeRoy Miller, 16, minor injuries and shock; and Ray O'Shea, 28, truck driver, burns of both arms and face, a fractured right arm, and severe cuts of head and scalp. All three injured were residents of Phillipsburg.

Shecker said the car containing the boys hit the truck and swerved into a tree. The truck turned completely around, then toppled upon the automobile, the gasoline bursting into flames.

A coroner's inquest will be held at a later date.

Steps In Garden Sanitation

Strict sanitation on a year-around basis is the price vegetable and flower growers must pay for control over insect enemies and plant diseases. In this program there are at least seven important steps, none of which the gardener can afford to neglect. They are:

1. Fleishy stalked plants infested by borers should be gathered and burned as soon as the particular crop is harvested or the ornamental crop is served its purpose. These include squashes, pumpkins, cucumbers, corn, dahlias, peonies and any others known to harbor borers. Of course, no vegetation should be burned and thereby destroyed which can be utilized on a compost heap for making humus to improve shallow and hard soils. But on the other hand, borers constitute one of our most destructive groups of insect foes. Sanitation demands that infested stalks be burned in late summer or early fall.

2. Several dangerous plant diseases are carried over from year to year in infected vegetation, such as plants affected by mildew, some forms of leaf spot, cabbage suffering from clubroot and blackleg, and cucumber and squash plants showing symptoms of wilt.

3. Certain insects live over in the soil near plants they have ravaged the previous summer. The sweet corn ear worm is a prominent example. Such soils should be plowed or spaded deeply in late autumn to expose and kill the dormant insects.

4. Of course, all safe weeds should be gathered and placed on the compost heap before they mature their seed. But several weeds contain disease dangers. For example, mosaic, a virus disease, lives in milkweeds, pokeweeds, ground cherry and others. These should be pulled and burned wherever found.

5. The common practice of saving vegetable and flower seeds from home planting is potent with dangers. It is generally safer to buy fresh seed each spring from a reliable source, but where home-grown seed is saved, it should be taken only from disease-free plants selected after careful and long inspection. Gardeners can not risk the perils of diseased seed.

6. Fence rows and other idle nooks, particularly garden areas where no "follow" crops are grown in late summer, are sources of disease and insect dangers. Here such hardy pests as the Mexican bean beetle, striped cucumber beetle, pea weevil, Colorado potato beetle and many others find refuge over winter. These areas should not be overlooked in the late summer and autumn cleanups.

7. Most garden soils sooner or later lack organic matter, which is better understood by the descriptive phrase—decayed vegetable matter. Depth of loam and mellowness are dependent largely on keeping soils well balanced with humus supplied in manures or green vegetation thoroughly decayed. Gardeners may easily and profitably turn waste vegetation into compost by piling weeds, safe vegetable and flower refuse, wood ashes and other wastes on a handy compost heap. Sanitation and full utilization of vegetative wastes via a compost heap are profitable twins in the late summer and fall garden.

If a No. 8 step were to be added it would have to be—Invite birds to nest and rear their young near the garden. One of the most essential moves toward this imperative end is to eliminate all bird-killing cats in the neighborhood.

Nearly 52,000,000 toothbrushes were shipped from United States factories during the first quarter of 1945.

IN MEMORIAM
In sad but loving remembrance of my dear wife, Mrs. Harvey Beamer, who departed this life two years ago, August 29, 1943.

Beyond life's gateway there is an open gate.
At the end of the road, through which each one must go alone. There is a light we cannot see.

Our father claims his own.
Beyond the gates my loving wife finds happiness and rest.

In the heaven that a loving God knows best.
I have lost my sole companion.
A life linked with my own.
Day by day I miss you more as I walk through life alone.

Harvey Beamer.

SANITARIUM AT YORK IS SOLD

The West Side sanitarium, West York, was transferred Tuesday by Dr. Edmund W. Melsenhelder to West Side Osteopathic Hospital, Inc., recently chartered by the common-wealth and licensed by the Penn-sylvania Department of Welfare. The consideration named in the deed is $150,000. The new corporation took immediate possession, but its formal operation of the institution will not begin until Saturday. It is under-stood that the administrative staff of the sanitarium will be retained by the corporation.

The sale includes all of the real estate and equipment, with certain exceptions. Dr. Melsenhelder, under the terms of an option, in the na-ture of a sales agreement, executed last May, will retain the use of offices in the resident physician's home on the property.

Includes 4 Buildings
There are four buildings, includ-ing the main hospital, an annex, the resident physician's home and the nurses' home.

The corporation will conduct a general hospital for treatment of the ill and infirm including surgery and a school for nurses under its charter and license.

The transfer is the culmination of an option taken on the property by the osteopathic group last May.

Dr. Edmund W. Melsenhelder has been the head of his own hospital for 32 years, for the past 25 years on the present site. He took over the hotel property formerly conducted by the late Wendell Glassmyer as the Cliff House, which he converted into the hospital known as the West Side Sanitarium. In that time the institution has been enlarged by the erection of a five-story annex, the acquisition of a nurses' home and numerous other improvements in buildings and equipment.

LT. Askounes enlisted April 28, 1942, and was commissioned in Oc-tober, 1942. He was assigned to the anti-aircraft coast artillery at Ft. Eustis, Va. Later he instructed in anti-aircraft at Camp Davis and Camp Stewart. He served 20 months in the Aleutians and participated in the battle of Kiska Island.

In July, 1944, he was selected to attend the Civil Affairs Training School in Charlottesville, Va. From there he was sent to Northwestern university, Evanston, Ill., to study the Japanese language and other subjects pertaining to government.

CRUSHED TO DEATH
OH City, Pa., Aug. 29 (AP)—Cor-oner H. M. Wellman reported the accidental death yesterday of Ray-mond Hartle, 43, of Vowinkel, crush-ed between a truck and a loading trolley at the Siegel Coal Tipples, Cook's Corners.

"Gentlemen," said Carter proud-ly, "the future Sheridan Pump Company, the Sheridan Pump Com-pany as it must be if we are to handle the orders rushing to us from all directions; orders, gentlemen—I beg your pardon, and Miss Grey—which we must fill if we are to prove wor-thy of the name Americans."

Jane lost nothing of the hubbub which followed, a planned chaos ap-parently aimed to confuse her. She saw Evelyn writing frantically try-ing to keep up with the many com-ments, then heard Judge Morgan rap on the table.

"Gentlemen," he reproved, "if

"What did I tell you?" demanded Evelyn. "Bribery can work both ways, and I'll put Mark Sheridan's smile up against Carla Hansen's any day. University Club," she re-peated. "I can't imagine our Glam-or-Pass getting in there."

Lisle Carter had persuaded Judge Morgan a called meeting was nec-essary. Because of Mr. Sheridan's two injuries, both of the regular board meetings had been skipped, or rather, adjourned without action.

Much to Jane's amazement, the great Mr. Carter, and wife, invited Miss Grey and Miss James to be their guests at dinner prior to the meeting.

"We'll have to accept, I suppose," said Jane regretfully. "we can't refuse to cooperate. Besides" — her head tipped a little — "we might learn something inadvertently."

They dined at The Lake Merritt with Lisle Carter. Mrs. Carter had one of her sick headaches and sent regrets.

Lisle was at his best. He beamed upon Evelyn. He called Jane "little lady."

The meeting moved along so smoothly Jane was worried. Her vote went unchallenged, even when it opposed Mr. Carter's. He even bowed once, and said, "I yield to the charming young lady."

"I liked him better when he was natural," Jane thought.

"And now"—Mr. Carter whirled his little gold knife on its gold chain—"we have come to the business of the evening, an item of business which should stir the patriotic blood of every member present."

"Lisle," said Judge Morgan, "I'd hate to meet you on a bond drive; I'd come out without my shirt. Now what are you leading up to?"

"Harry," prompted Carter, and a board member literally sprang for-ward, a long white cylinder in his hand. He unrolled it and upon the board table spread a gigantic blue-print.

"Gentlemen," said Carter proud-ly, "the future Sheridan Pump Company, the Sheridan Pump Com-pany as it must be if we are to handle the orders rushing to us from all directions; orders, gentlemen—I beg your pardon, and Miss Grey—which we must fill if we are to prove wor-thy of the name Americans."

Chapter 28
Jane opened the first wire from Mark Sheridan without realizing from whom it was. Evelyn, taking dictation, knew from the look on Jane's face, and began studying the penciled chicken tracks across her notebook. And then she heard Jane laugh.

"What did I tell you?" demanded Evelyn. "Bribery can work both ways, and I'll put Mark Sheridan's smile up against Carla Hansen's any day. University Club," she re-peated. "I can't imagine our Glam-or-Pass getting in there."

Lisle Carter had persuaded Judge Morgan a called meeting was nec-essary. Because of Mr. Sheridan's two injuries, both of the regular board meetings had been skipped, or rather, adjourned without action.

Much to Jane's amazement, the great Mr. Carter, and wife, invited Miss Grey and Miss James to be their guests at dinner prior to the meeting.

"We'll have to accept, I suppose," said Jane regretfully. "we can't refuse to cooperate. Besides" — her head tipped a little — "we might learn something inadvertently."

CARDS, BROWNS LOSE; TIGERS, CUBS WIN AGAIN

By JACK HAND
(AP Sports Writer)

St. Louis dreams of another Sportsman's Park World Series appeared faded today with the winning streaks of the Cardinals and Browns broken while the Chicago Cubs and Detroit Tigers resumed their winning ways.

After six straight wins the champs were halted by Cincinnati last night, 3-2, by the slender margin of Eddie Miller's eighth inning home run off Reliever Red Barrett, trying unsuccessfully to become the National's first 20-game winner.

Grimm celebrated his 46th birthday in happy fashion by trimming Pittsburgh, 6-3, with the help of Peanuts Lowrey's three-run homer off Fritz Ostermuller. Hank Borowy, the fellow who doesn't win in late summer according to Larry MacPhail, registered his fifth victory against two losses for the Cubs. By the combination of events Chicago's lead was stretched to 3½ games.

Tigers Cool Browns

Brooklyn took a firmer grasp on third place by a 7-1 romp over the Phillies with Les Webber going to the relief of Art Herring who gave way to a shoulder ailment after two innings.

As the New York Giants and Boston were not scheduled, the Dodgers now hold third spot by two full games.

Hal Newhouser cooled off the Browns in the American league feature, 10-1, allowing only four hits on his way to his 21st victory. The lean Detroit left-hander struck out nine and coasted home with the help of some heavy home run thumping by Roy Cullenbine, Hank Greenberg and Bobby Maier. The Browns had won five in a row and nine of their last 11 before the Tigers came to town to disappoint 17,621 fans.

Bobby Feller's second start for Cleveland lacked some of the dash of his first appearance but the fireball merchant had little trouble handcuffing Chicago, 8-2. The ex-sailor walked seven and struck out six White Sox, apparently easing off after homers by Dutch Meyer and Les Fleming gave him a safe working margin.

Yanks Win Again

The New York Yankees continued to come on, running their new string to five by whipping Boston, 8-7. Walt Dubiel earned his fifth decision over the Red Sox with some late-inning help from Milkman Jim Turner. Despite their fourth place standing, the Yanks only six games back of Detroit with a long home schedule ahead, are in a fair strategic position.

Washington stuck on the tail light of the Tigers, 1½ lengths behind, on a 6-5 edge over Philadelphia, made possible by Rick Ferrell's sixth inning homer, his first of the season.

New Minor Leagues To Open Next Year

Baltimore, Aug. 29 (AP)—Arthur H. Ehlers of Baltimore, new promotional director for minor league baseball, said today there was "no question that there will be plenty of baseball next year."

Thumbing through stacks of letters from league officials and would-be organizers, Ehlers reviewed the minor league situation from coast-to-coast, showing that there was a tremendous spurt in efforts to get the smaller loops back into some semblance of their pre-war status.

"There'll be plenty of minor league ball in 1946 again, but we want to guard against not starting any more leagues than we have players for, and we intend in the formation of new leagues to keep them so located geographically that they can hold operating expenses to a minimum," he said.

All American Boy Presented Trophy

New York, Aug. 29 (AP)—Sixteen-year-old Curtis Simmons, of Egypt, Pa., early today was honored as the All-American boy of the annual Esquire All-American boys baseball game at the Polo grounds.

Simmons, who helped Babe Ruth's east team gain a 5 to 4 triumph over Ty Cobb's west outfit before 23,617 fans last night, was presented with a trophy at a party at 2:30 a. m. He pitched the first four innings, then was shifted to the outfield for the last five. His triple in the ninth started a three-run rally that won the game. The lusty clout drove in one run and Simmons scored the tying run a minute later. He is 5 feet 11 inches in height and weighs 165 pounds.

NOT THIS YEAR

Expect 90,000 At Football Classic

Chicago, Aug. 29 (AP)—Soldier Field, the huge stadium on Chicago's lake front, isn't big enough to accommodate all the fans who want to see the all star football game tomorrow night.

Arch Ward, sports editor of the Chicago Tribune, sponsor of the grid classic, said today if accommodations were available, the crowd would number more than 135,000. The attendance cannot reach the 101,100 figure for the 1942 game because of a slight decrease in seating capacity, but Ward said the

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, Aug. 29 (AP)—Distance may lend enchantment—but not to a guy who has to ride a great distance in a bus between night baseball games. That's the theory being followed by Arthur Ehlers, newly-appointed minor league promotion director. As President of one of the "bus leagues"—the Interstate—Ehlers has a good idea of the importance of distance and he hopes to bring about a number of realignments when he gets around to reviving disbanded leagues and starting a new one.

MAN WORKING—NO DANGER

Right now Ehlers' task is to get the suspended circuits going again and there's nothing much to be done when leagues that "protected" their territory want to keep it intact. The Canadian-American loop did agree to accept $5,000 for the Utica territory instead of $15,000 it might have demanded.

But the war-born Ohio State loop can't operate without Zanesville and Springfield, which belong to the Middle Atlantic, and a class "D" league can't pay much for territory. Then there have been rumblings of an effort to bring back the three-eye loop with a greatly altered setup.

LOOKING WAY AHEAD

Once things are started again in all sections, Ehlers has some rather ambitious promotional plans. But he wants to work slowly to be sure that there are enough players to go around and that leagues don't spring up just to die down again. He already has sounded out the "farm" directors of various major and big minor clubs about a meeting at which they'll outline their needs and eventually he hopes to provide aid and incidental intelligence for small club business managers to help them operate their clubs successfully.

Youth Has Fling In Tennis Tourney

Forest Hills, N. Y., Aug. 29 (AP)—

Youth had its annual fling in the opening round of the National Tennis championships yesterday and in the opinion of some qualified experts, two or three of the youngsters may stick around after today to contend with such established stars as Sgt. Frankie Parker, Bill Talbert and Pancho Segura.

The top trio of youngsters includes Air Cadet Bob Falkenberg of Hollywood, Calif., sixth in the 1944 national rankings and eighth seeded player of the 1941 championships; Herbert Flam of Beverly Hills, Calif., successor to Falkenberg as national junior champion, and Herbert Buddy Behrens of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., winner of the boys' championship for the past two years.

All three came through their opening matches in fine style and face comparatively easy opposition today.

Eastern League

The aroused and rampaging Albany Senators had swept their third straight doubleheader—and eighth consecutive game—today and were within four games of sharing the Eastern league lead with the Utica Blue Sox.

The Senators tossed back Williamsport, 5-4, 5-0 last night to chop a game and a half from Utica's lead. The Blue Sox fell before Wilkes-Barre 4-1.

The two series continue tonight with the Senators facing relatively easy opposition in the tail end Grays while Utica tangles with the third place Barons.

Binghamton won from Scranton 8-3 and Elmira rolled over Hartford 5-2 to young out yesterday's slate.
